

Diploma in Biosynthesis

How to obtain a Diploma

The foundation and advanced training courses are integral components of the Biosynthesis diploma. Anyone who has completed both the foundation and advanced training and the required number of individual therapy sessions, individual supervision and independent therapeutic practice, can finish their training with a Biosynthesis diploma.

This training is recognized by the Swiss Charter for Psychotherapy (SCP), and corresponds also to the requirements of the World Council of Psychotherapy (WCP) specified in both form and content.

Diploma in Somatic and Depth Psychological Psychotherapy

Diploma in Biosynthesis Somatic Therapy

In Brussels in October 1998, Biosynthesis was the first body-psychotherapy method to receive scientific recognition from the European Association for Psychotherapy (EAP).

Detailed information about the different levels of certification:

Levels of Certification for Biosynthesis

3 year Foundation training certification

Certificate of completion of the Foundation Training.

This certifies your participation in the 3 year training for your own spiritual
And personal growth.

The following will be given when all requirements for the appropriate certification is completed:

Certificate in Biosynthesis Somatic Therapy
(for non psychotherapists)

Certificate in Somatic and Depth Psychological Psychotherapy
(for psychotherapists)

4th-year Advanced Training certification

Certificate in 1 Year Advanced Training.

This certifies your participation in the 1 year advance training.

The following diplomas will be given when all requirements for the appropriate certification is completed:

Diploma in Biosynthesis Somatic Therapy (for non psychotherapists)

Diploma in Somatic and Depth Psychological Psychotherapy